

So Much Hinges On Your Decision To Choose "Made In The USA"

Bommer Industries, Inc. is the last architectural door hinge manufacturer still making 100% of its quality products right here at home using American steel, American workers and American ingenuity. When you specify and purchase Bommer hinges, you can be assured they're "Made In The USA."

Why is this significant? Because at such a pivotal and vulnerable time in our nation's history, so much swings on the balance of your choices: jobs, workers, families, economic growth, pride, patriotism, even national security are at stake.

While our competitors have cut back their manufacturing operations to focus on selling cheap imports, we at Bommer have invested in better equipment and more efficient processes to deliver competitively priced solutions... such as our new LB5000 series hinge.

The LB5000 series is proof of our capability and our resolve. And though we've been making hinges for over 125 years, it signals loud and clear that we're really just getting started.

At Bommer, we believe that "where there's a will, there's a way."

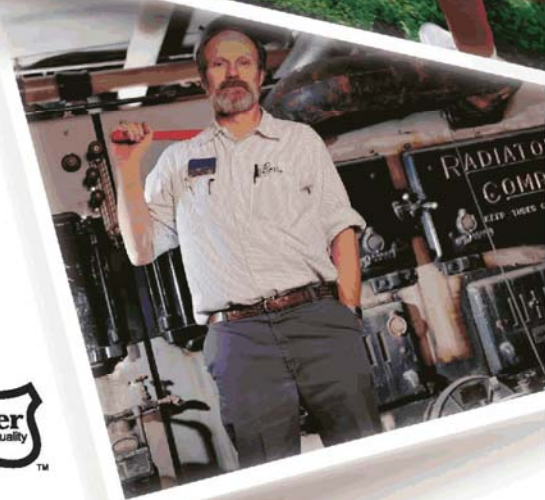

So should you.

Choose wisely. Choose America. Choose Bommer.

The original standard of excellence for more than 125 years™

The LB5000 series is proof of our capability and our resolve.
